GREETINGS FROM THE SAE PRESIDENT

Dear Members of the Society of Afghan Engineers and Readers of the SAE eNewsletter:

This year is the fourth year of the publication of the SAE eNewsletter. The quarterly issues of the electronic newsletter are disseminated to all Society members and other interested professionals. During this time the newsletter editors and regional representatives have tried to provide the required technical news and articles.

The year 2014 is the third and last year of the service term of your elected Society officers. Thanks to all Society members for the trust and confidence in their elected officers. It is indeed an honor and privilege for me to serve as the President of the Society.

This year is the election of the new president and members of the Board of directors. The election committee will conduct the nomination and election process of nine members of the board of directors and president of the Society. Upon their election, the Society officers will serve for next three years, starting on January 1, 2015. The election committee consists of the chairperson and four members. The current president will nominate the chairperson and each member has the right to nominate two members to serve as members of the election committee. The board of Directors approves nomination of the Chairperson and its four members.

I would like to take this opportunity to inform SAE members of the following action items:

- Please advise me by February 15, 2014 if you are interested to serve as a volunteer for the position of the Chairperson of the Election Committee. I will submit the name of the volunteer as nominee to the Board of Directors for review and approval.
- By February 15, 2014, please submit the name (s) of the nominee (s) of your choice to Mr. M. Q. Kadir, Chairman of the Board of Directors. Each member has the right to submit the name of two interested members, for consideration and approval as member of the Election Committee.

It is a privilege that the Society of Afghan Engineers was involved in the review of Salang Tunnel emergency road repair and review of the feasibility study of future Salang alternative routes. The SAE formed a Taskforce to provide their review comments to the Ministry of Public Works.

The annual SAE membership is scheduled for January 18, 2014. During the meeting, the keynote speaker, Mr. Mike Sanio, Director, Sustainability and International Alliances of the American Society of Civil Engineers, will have a presentation. In addition to financial report, the Chapter Coordinators and Committees will present their activity reports.

Very Truly Yours,

G. Mujtaba, MS- CE, P.E., CPM

President, the Society of Afghan Engineers

Book Abstract

By: M. Nadir Sidiqi, PhD

Biodiversity conservation is humanity's building block to sustain lives - ultimately allowing all living and nonliving creatures to interact in a balanced proportion. Humanity's challenge in the 21st century is to maintain biodiversity without harming the natural habitat of plants, animals and beneficial microorganisms. There are many good reasons to consider why biodiversity is important to our ecosystem, especially for a nation like Afghanistan.

Biodiversity is the variety of the living components, such as humans, plants, animals, and microorganisms, and nonliving components interaction, including air, water, sunlight, soil, humidity and environmental factors in an area. There are many ways of gauging the value of biodiversity.

One of the major values of biodiversity is its economic value: biodiversity provides goods and services to the Afghan nation directly through links and components such as the maintenance of traditional crops, medicine, fruits, animals, grazing, fuel, timber, harvesting, fishing, and hunting. As an ecosystem, biodiversity includes such benefits as soil fertility, erosion control, crop pollination, crop rotation, and pest control. The conservation of biodiversity is crucial for these benefits, which would be impossible to replace.

Biodiversity conservation also has heritage values; according to World Resources Institute, biodiversity has been termed "the wealth of the poor." This wealth of genetic diversity provides backup to rural people living close together who depend on biodiversity practices such as productive crop, grazing land, as well as the collection of fuel, building materials and wild fish and related supplies.

These values are important for developing countries particularly Afghanistan. Afghanistan has unfortunately suffered greatly from more than three decades of war. Public perception of the value of sustaining biodiversity and enforcing laws and regulations pertaining to biodiversity and food and agriculture is a crucial plan of action that requires the work of the Afghanistan government and collaboration of the Afghan nation. Understanding biodiversity conservation can change any nation in a positive manner and bring the country among the top developed nations. Therefore, publishing a contemporary about this topic was necessary.
